[The following tobacco accounts mention Nathaniel Withers, Henry Greene, Capt. Batten, Thomas Steed, Daniell Hopkinson, Abraham Hopkinson, James Pickering, all referred to as "Mr."]

[The last account is signed by Joseph Clifton.]

[There follows the will of Daniell Hopkinson which mentions "my beloved brother, Joseph Clifton to be my full and lawfull executor" and "my beloved wife Sarah" as well as "Father Clifton and Mother Clifton," "Mother Katherine Hopkinson," "brother Abraham," "brother Michael Markland," "brother and sister Sole," "Sister Barbery Clifton," "Mr. Reeves," "Mr. Hart." The will was dated 21 November 1636 and witnessed by Robert Reeves and Thomas Nant [Hart?].

"A Booke of Accounts for the Shippe called the Tristram and Jane of London which came from Virginia Anno Domini 1637" (Public Record Office, London, HCA 30 655, 13 sheets) is one of the interesting bits of Virginiana unearthed by Mr. Francis L. Berkeley, Curator of Manuscripts at the Alderman Library, University of Virginia, while doing research in Great Britain. It is the earliest account of a trading voyage to Virginia that this writer has seen and contains numerous items of interest. Like voyages to the Near and Far East described in "John Offley's Book" (Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, L (1942), 1-12), it was a joint stock venture with each member putting up either a certain amount of money or of commodities, repayable at the end of the voyage with a proportionate share of the profits. In this case there were eight shares divided among seven persons as follows: Mr. Nathaniel Withers, one-eighth; Mr. Henry Greene, one-eighth; Captain Batten, one-sixteenth; Mr. Thomas Steed, one-eighth; Mr. Daniell Hopkinson, the so-called "Merchant" but acting more like a supercargo, three-eighths; his brother, Mr. Abraham Hopkinson, one-eighth; and Mr. James Pickering, one-sixteenth. Daniell Hopkinson died in Virginia testate leaving his brother-in-law, Joseph Clifton, his executor. Hopkinson's will was probated in London (P.C.C. (52) Goare 1636 in the Principal Probate Registry, Somerset House, London). The account book was among the papers filed in the settlement of the estate.

The Tristram and Jane probably left England in late summer or early fall of 1636, arriving in Virginia in time to take on the tobacco which was ready for market by December. On the homeward voyage the vessel probably reached London the latter part of March 1637 for Daniell Hopkinson's will was probated April 8, 1637. The ship took back to England 99 hogsheads of tobacco totalling 31,800 pounds or an average of slightly over 321 pounds to the hogshead. Besides this, the partners shipped on the Unity of the Isle of Wight two hogsheads weighing 550 pounds. Their total poundage was, therefore, 32,350, which at fourpence per pound equals £539-3-4. The profits of the voyage cannot be learned from this "book of accompts" for it does not give the cost of all the articles comprising the cargo....

We return now to passengers of the Tristram and Jane. A check of the land patents in Nell Marion Nugent's Cavaliers and Pioneers [from this point many footnotes are omitted] was made to learn if possible what became of them. It is possible that two persons having the same name may be confused in some of the identifications.

James Miller, the first passenger named was a cooper by trade, an important trade in a country where tobacco, the main crop, was generally handled in hogsheads. James Miller paid 900 pounds of tobacco for his and his wife's passage. On October 23, 1637, he took up 100 acres in Charles River (now York) County lying on the great Otterdams at the head of the new Poquoson, due him for "the personal adventure of himself and his wife Mary." He purchased a servant from the Tristram, William Browne, of whom we have no further mention.

John Davis on August 26, 1637, patented 250 acres in James City County lying on the Chickahominy River for his own transportation and that of four servants, three of whom Samuel Fenn, Walter Willis, and Thomas Lodge (Lodge being likely a misreading for Dodge as the name appears in the "Accompt") had come over on the Tristram. John Davis had purchased two other servants, John Scoffin and Cornelius Sanders. Scoffin he likely sold to Nicholas Hill whose patent for land in Elizabeth City County on November 25, 1637, claims as a headright "a servant called John Coffin (or Scoffin)." Davis also sold Sanders whose right was not used until some sixteen years later. Then on April 27, 1653, Captain Robert Abrahall patented 400 acres in Gloucester County for the transportation of eight persons whose rights had been "assigned by Captain Barnehouse," among them appears the name "Cor. Sanders."

William Worlich, who bought two servants, patented on May 7, 1637, 150 acres lying "in Warwick County commonly called the broad-neck." There is no record of the servant Robert Lord whom Worlich had purchased from the Tristram.

Timothy Stockdell appears in the "Accompt" as purchasing Edward Hartuppe and Anthony Lentall. He soon sold them, for, on February 6, 1637/38, Humphry Higgenson, Gent., patented 700 acres called by the name of Tuttey's Neck adjacent to Harrop, "upon a branch of Archer's Hope Creek parting it from Kingsmell's Neck." "Said land graunted unto Elizabeth his now wife by order of Court October 4, 1637, whose right is transferred to said Higgenson, and alsoe due for the adventure of 14 persons, Eliza. Higgenson, Edward Hartop, Anth. Lenton," etc. Anthony Lentall (Lenton, Lynton, Linton) is doubtless progenitor of the family later in Lower Norfolk and still later in Stafford and Prince William counties.

We learn of Robert Partin and John Neale, who bought two servants each, through the following items. Captain Francis Hook, Esquire, on August 9, 1637, patented 100 acres in Elizabeth City County adjoining Thomas Oldis and John Neale, "the said land being in the tenure and occupation of Robert Partin and Gresham Covell." On November 24, 1637, Robert Partin leased 40 acres in Elizabeth City County between the great house and Widow Thompson's land, south on the fort field, west on Robert Brasheare, and north to the church for a term of 21 years. John Neale, merchant, on February 12, 1632, had taken a 21 year lease on 50 acres lying upon the Strawberry Banks within the precincts of Elizabeth City, east upon the land of Lieutenant Edward Waters, west along the great river. (The great river would be the part of Hampton Roads lying between Hampton Creek and Salter Creek. Strawberry Banks is the site of the present Kecoughtan Veterans' Facility.)

Anthony Panton, clarke, later called in the "Accompts" Parson Panton, was the minister of York and Chiskiack Parishes in York County. He was persecuted by Governor John Harvey for disparaging remarks about Richard Kemp, secretary of the colony, and banished from the colony on October 8, 1638. Governor Francis Wyatt, Harvey's successor, restored him to his parish. York Parish extended from Poquoson River to Morgan's Creek and Chiskiack from Morgan's Creek to Queen's Creek.

Thomas Sully, according to the "Accompts," purchased Sarah Cole, but sold her to Walter Chiles, merchant, for on May 2, 1638, she is one of the headrights listed in a patent issued to Walter Chiles for 250 acres on the Appomattox River, Charles City County. Thomas Sully on August 14, 1624, had patented six acres "within the Island of James City, east upon block house field, cleared in the time of the Government of Sir Thomas Gates, extending to the new block house lately built, part of his first divident for his personal adventure." He is described as "of the Neck of Land in the Corporation of James City, Yeoman and old planter." ("Old" or "Ancient Planter" was the term for those who had come prior to 1616, and were therefore entitled to 100 acres instead of the 50 acres due later arrivals.)

George Menifee (Minifry, Menefee), who is mentioned several times as a purchaser both of commodities and a servant, was a merchant who came in 1622 in the Samuel. On February 4, 1624/25, he patented land, "having been in this country almost 3 years." George Menifee resided some eight miles east of Williamsburg, a state historical marker on U. S. Route 60 now designates the location. His land adjoined that of Richard Kingsmill. In 1953 the Kingsmill tract, then comprising a much longer acreage than early patents called for, became the property of Colonial Williamsburg, Inc.

The Brasheare who paid 600 pounds of tobacco for Thomas Purser is presumably the person named in the following: Peter Johnson's patent for 600 acres in Warrisquicke County June 1, 1636, land abutting on Nansemond River, "Renewed in the name of Robert Brasheare and Peter Ray."

The Gookines who bought two servants may be either John or Daniel Gookins; the former patented on October 17, 1636, 500 acres on Nansemond River, the latter also owned land in this vicinity, for on November 24, 1637, William Fookes patented 450 acres "at Nansemond River joining to the land of Mr. Daniel Gookins." ("Mr." in the seventeenth century was used to denote social position and was not applied generally.)

Gresham Coffeld, who bought two servants, is identical with "Gresham (Gressom) Coffield" who on August 14, 1638, patented in partnership with Thomas Stamp 200 acres in Isle of Wight County. "Coffield" is the same as "Covell," and this is the same person previously mentioned as holding land in Elizabeth City County with Robert Martin.

A Cooke bought Richard Baxter and William Abraham, but evidently sold the former, who is listed in a patent to Thomas Clipwell dated November 15, 1638, for 600 acres lying in James City County on the Chickahominy River.

The Harris who bought two servants is possibly Thomas Harris an "Ancient Planter" and prominent citizen.

Captain John Howe who was in Accomack County prior to October 24, 1637, at which time he patented land "upon Cherrystone Creek" is probably identical with the John Howe who invested in six servants as noted in the "Accompts."

Cornelius Lloyd who purchased a servant had a patent on July 2, 1635, for 800 acres lying upon Elizabeth River. He had come to Virginia with his brother Colonel Edward Lloyd, before the Massacre. Cornelius died childless, but Edward removed to Maryland and became the founder of a distinguished family.

Joseph Moore is mentioned in the following items. John Robins the younger of the Back River in the Corporation of Elizabeth City, planter, son and heir of his father John Robins the elder deceased, patented 300 acres at said Back River on September 7, 1632. Among his headrights was Joseph Moore who came over in the Margaret and John in 1622. Joseph Moore patented on June 2, 1636, 200 acres in Elizabeth City County at the old Poquoson River. (In 1632 the division of the colony into four corporations was still in force and Elizabeth City was one; when the corporations were abandoned and the colony divided into eight shires or counties, Elizabeth City was one. In 1952 the county became the City of Hampton.)

A Cornwallis is shown in the "Accompts" as buying five servants, he is probably the person referred to in an order of the York County Court held in January 1645/6 in Beverley Fleet's Virginia Colonial Abstracts: "Thomas Bushrod to have an attachment against the estate of Captain Thomas Cornwallis to cover debt of 3030 pounds of tobacco."

On August 18, 1627, Lieutenant Gilbert Peppett patented 250 acres on the southerly side of Warwick River parting it from the land of Captain Samuel Matthews now in the tenure "of Thomas Attowell (or Howell) and Nathaniell Floyd." Nathaniel Floyd patented on November 20, 1637, 250 acres in Isle of Wight County, claiming as headrights, among others, Richard Carter, whom he had purchased from the Tristram.

No patent has been found for Ralph Wyatt, but he was a landholder prior to December 31, 1636, as on that date he executed a lease for 21 years to Richard Johnson, Roger Davis, and Abraham Wood, planters, for land lying on Sizemore's Creek near Appomattox River, reserving to said Wyatt ten acres.

William Armistead who bought for 450 pounds of tobacco a maid servant Katherin Teage is presumably the same person who on July 7, 1636, took out a patent for 450 acres in Elizabeth City County.

Richard Preston in an undated patent, but probably issued in November, 1637, received 100 acres upon the uppermost end of Thomas Jordan's great Indianfield Neck for the transportation of Michael
